

SE LAB 2 JIRA

Reflection Questions

1. Did your estimations reflect the actual effort?

Yes. The story points were a good estimate of the effort needed. Bigger tasks had more points, while simpler tasks had fewer.

2. Was your backlog well-prioritized?

Yes. Important features like time credits, booking, and session confirmation were given higher priority. Other features were given medium priority.

3. How did your simulated sprint align with your plan?

The sprint followed the planned tasks, and the selected user stories were completed as planned.

4. What insights did the burndown chart give about your team's capacity?

The burndown chart showed how the remaining work decreased during the sprint. It also showed when tasks were completed, helping us understand our team's progress and capacity.

Jira Backlog / Sprint View

The screenshot shows the Jira Backlog view for the 'LS board' under the 'Lab2_SE' space. The interface includes a sidebar with navigation options like 'For you', 'Recent', 'Starred', 'Apps', 'Plans', 'Spaces', 'Recent', 'Recommended', 'Import work', 'Filters', 'Dashboards', 'Confluence', 'Loom', 'Assets', 'Teams', 'Goals', 'Projects', and 'Customize sidebar'. The main content area displays the 'LS board' with a search bar, version, epic, and quick filters. The 'Epic' section shows a list of epics: 'No epic', 'Time Credit Management', 'Session Booking & Management', and 'Skills, Profiles & Feedback'. The 'Sprint' section shows 'LS Sprint 1' (30 Sep - 7 Oct) with 5 work items. The 'Backlog' section shows 'Backlog (0 work items)' with a 'Your backlog is empty' message.
